WHEN a man ill-uses his mule in New Orleans he is fined $25. Boston, with its lofty civilization, fines a man $10 for beating his wife.

A FARTHER in Nodaway county, Mo., has a crock full of half-stones he collected on September 30th. He secured the half from a drift fully three feet deep.

Brand new blood is what conquered Spain, and what you can have to conquer the world by using Beggs' Blood purifier and blood-maker. There is no substitute. We keep it. Sneed Drug Company.

"You Americans never seem to have any old family servants as we do in England," said the tourist. "As a rule we do not, but there are exceptions. Our cook has been with us nearly three weeks," said the man from Chicago.

More than one-half the population of the world is ruled by two women—Queen Victoria and the empress of China. And then there are the hen-pecked husbands, leaving the margin of thoroughly emancipated men exceedingly small.

G. A. VanHall, the leading druggist of Butler, Mo., writes: "We are having splendid success with Beggs' blood purifier and blood maker. It is one of the best sellers we ever had and gives satisfaction to all who have tried it. We take pleasure in recommending it." Sneed Drug Company.

The royal palace at Madrid is one of the most beautiful structures in the world, having been built in the early part of the last century at a cost of over $5,000,000. It is of white marble and was built 470 feet each way, with a court 240 feet square roofed with glass.

For external piles, cuts, burns and bruises, old sores, eczema and all skin diseases Beggs' German salve stands today without a peer. It is an old reliable remedy, and if used freely wounds will heal without a scar. Be careful to get "Beggs'" and be sure of a speedy cure. For sale by Sneed Drug Company.

A young man of LaGrange, who had just returned from college and was a little profuse in the use of Latin terms, called to see one of his young lady friends. After discoursing some time together, the young lady spoke of his knowledge of Latin, and told him she had a word she had been puzzled for some time on its pronunciation. The young man said he thought he could pronounce any word in the Latin language, according to the rules of pronunciation, and asked for the word. The young lady wrote the word "Somet-times" on a piece of paper. After scratching his head and stammering for a while, he said he believed the accent should be placed on the second syllable. The young lady replied that the accent, she thought, should be placed on the first syllable, and she had heard it pronounced "sometimes." The young man immediately said goodnight to the lady.

The following extract is credited to a Missouri soldier: "Two months ago I left Tampa for the United States, which we are trying to take. For 25 days I never saw a woman. Fellow-soldiers, if you want to appreciate a woman get away from her. You don't know what the Creator did when he performed the first surgical operation on Adam. If you want to know what a grand, glorious and sugar-coated thing a woman is, join the army as I did. See nothing but men from morning till night. Join the army and loaf with men, eat with men, talk with men, help men, carry men, walk over men, shoot men, succor men, see men, and nothing but men. Live in a perpetual atmosphere of suppressed profanity, boot smell and tobacco smoke, and at the end of three weeks you would be passionately enamored with the mummy of an Egyptian servant girl, and give her an electrical kiss that would burn 3,000 years of dried hide into flushed and velvety animation."

In its advanced and chronic form a cold in the head is known as Nasal Catarrh and is the recognized source of other diseases. Having stood the test of continued successful use, Ely's Cream Balm is recognized as a specific for membranous diseases in the nasal passages and you make a great mistake in not resorting to this treatment in your own case. To test it a trial size for 10 cents or the large for 50 cents is mailed by Ely Brothers, 50 Warren street, New York. Druggists keep it.

Fault-Finding.
Fault-finding is one of the most disagreeable habits into which one may drift, and it is surprising how many men are guilty of it. It is usually the wife who suffers from his numerous complaints and sarcasms. It he could only realize (and I really believe he does not) the heart-aches which his words cause in her whom he has promised to love and protect, he would surely be less exacting as to her duties. Is it any wonder that her heart grows heavy when she hears his steps approaching at the hour, when she is weary with household cares, and the dinner is not yet ready, when she knows from past experience that his first words of greeting will be: "Dinner not ready yet? Why is it your meals are never on time?"

Perhaps her head is aching and the ironing was unusually tedious. Perhaps the baby was very peevish and fretful. Nevertheless he feels that he is the martyr, and after eating his dinner he hurries off to his business without having given her one kind word to lighten the burden of his patient companionship, while her very heart is starving for the words of tenderness which he failed to utter. Toward evening his mood may soften somewhat, and he thinks perhaps I was a little unreasonable with my wife; I will make amends by going home a little earlier and take her out for a drive. This he makes arrangements to do, and a happy smile lightens the face of his tired wife in anticipation of a little recreation. She hurries with her work in order to be ready in time, well knowing her lord must not be kept waiting. Perhaps she wears her favorite color and arranges her hair in the style he used to like. As she comes out smiling with pleasure, his first words are: "You look like a fright. Why can you not dress becomingly as other women do?" Do you know, my dear man, that the pleasure and benefit of that ride are swept away by those few words, and is it any wonder that her feelings toward him are somewhat estranged, and lie to her seems scarcely worth living!—Mary H. Lake.

Confesses Ignorance.
The Richmond Conservator man, George Trigg, after an experience of 12 years in the newspaper business, rubbing up against the public, confesses he was as badly fooled in his estimate of the common run of folks as the veriest jay in judging diamonds.

"It will soon be 12 years since we first engaged in the newspaper business. We thought at that time we knew something about human nature and the ways of the world, but it was precious little we knew. The newspaper business is a field for knowledge along this line, and the longer a man engages in newspaper work the more disgusted he becomes with mankind. There are just scores of good, honest people in this world, and there are hundreds who have no idea of what honesty or honor means, especially when dealing with an editor. To beat him out of what honestly belongs to him seems to be the ruling passion of some people, and one who does not know, would be surprised if the names were published to the world of those who refuse to pay their subscription to their home paper after it has been delivered to them for years."

How dear to the heart is the old yellow pumpkin when orphans are barren of stuffing for pies; when peaches and apples have been a failure, and berries of no kind have greeted the eyes; how fondly we turn to the fruit that our children are taught to despise—the old yellow pumpkin, the big-bellied pumpkin, the mud-covered pumpkin that makes such good pies.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR
gives nature the mild assistance needed for the regulation of the menses. It is of wonderful aid to the girl just entering womanhood, to the wife, and to the woman approaching or going through the turn of life. Women who suffer from any unnatural drain, any bearing-down pains in the lower abdomen, falling or displacement of the womb, can quickly cure their troubles at home, completely away from the eyes of a physician. A few doses taken each month will regulate the menses perfectly.
Large bottles sold by druggists for $1.

WINE OF CARDUI
For Mothers!
The discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.
McElree's Wine of Cardui has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.
For advice in cases requiring special directions, address giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.
Mrs. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but I had not had any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

In Missouri there are at the present time 223,888 bachelors of 20 years and upward, while the spinsters number 113,036. Between the ages of 20 and 24 there are 111,347 bachelors and 66,048 maidens; between 25 and 29, 50,800 bachelors and 22,165 spinsters; between 30 and 34, 25,130 bachelors and 8,921 spinsters; between 35 and 44, 21,042 bachelors and 8,473 spinsters; between 45 and 54, 8,567 bachelors and 3,811 spinsters; between 55 and 64, 3,842 bachelors and 1,684 maidens, and from 65 upward there are 1,857 bachelors and 1,060 spinsters. It will be observed by these figures that the bachelors in Missouri outnumber the unmarried women by 96 per cent.

Burglars at Sumner.
On Monday morning, says the Sumner Star, when the store of Tracy & Hopper was opened the discovery was made that they had been visited during the night by burglars who proceeded to help themselves to hats, shoes, clothing, etc., to the amount of about $75. They left their old hats in the store, but had carried away most of the swag in Mr. Hopper's best grip. Entrance to the building was effected by cutting out a panel from the back door which made an opening large enough for an ordinary man to crawl through. As soon as the burglary was discovered Mr. Watterson started out trying to pick up the trail. Near the Purvis cemetery he found where the thieves had changed their under clothing, and from this it was thought they had gone north, and Messrs. Watterson and Ballew started in that direction looking for them, but no trace could be found of them. It is supposed the job was done by two young strangers who were seen about town, Saturday night and Sunday, and who were heard to enquire if a night watch was kept there. One of these fellows can be identified by his having a stiff neck caused by a big boil. This building seems to have a peculiar attraction for the knights of the dark lantern and "jammy" for it has probably been burglarized more times in the last few years than all the rest of the business houses in Sumner. There had been quite a sum of money in the cash register, Sunday evening. But fortunately Mr. Watterson was in Sunday night and took it out or the light fingered gentry would have had quite a nice pile of coin to carry away as well as plenty of good clothes. The citizens of Sumner are getting tired of burglaries, and the next of the guild that are caught at that place the Star is of the opinion that they will be mighty likely to be the central figure in a necktie party.
Scalds, burns, old sores, tumors, piles are all relieved at once, and in time effectually cured by the use of that perfect ointment, Beggs' German Salve. Ask your druggists for samples and take no other. For sale by Sneed Drug Company.
